

CO. 24 BBQ Event 2023

A check for $9,087.34 was given to Chief Sam Daughtery of our Volunteer Fire Co #24 at the “After the BBQ – BBQ” held on August 22 at the Community Center. This event was held by the Lions Club as a “Thank You” for everyone’s hard work during this year’s BBQ fundraiser talk about what went well and what to improve upon for next year. A total of 38 people were in attendance and were treated to BBQ pulled-pork sliders, baked beans and spaghetti by Lion Sherry Alpers, coleslaw and some pretty yummy desserts - lemon/blueberry mini-cakes made by Jodie Campbell, a pecan pie/cheesecake prepared by Lion Corrine Hayes and a wine cake baked by Lion Jeanette Christian.

Even though the date and the venue was different from year’s past, the annual BBQ fundraiser exceeded even last year’s total. A special thanks to Pastor Norm and Denise Walker for the use of the Baptist Church Parking lot to hold the event.

A total of 275 meal tickets were sold bringing in $3,275. The Opportunity Drawing Tickets that were sold raised $1,538. The Live Auction brought in $2,485. Donations brought in $826. The Women’s Bake Sale raised $423.50. Face Painting by Jared Nobel brought in $52. The FRCA had Soda and Water Sales that brought in $237. Coins donated by Malcomb McMaster totaled $37.99. The Lions held 8 different events prior to the BBQ where they sold plants and baked goods in front of the Post Office which had proceeds of $1,757. The total expenses for food and supplies was $1,554.15.

Many people helped to put this event on. We want to give a big Thank You to Dona LaFranchi and her work on collecting, recording and handling of all the Opportunity Drawing & Auction Items, Marlene Fume’ for running the Auction and Drawings during the event. John Hague for being the MC and the music during the event. A big Thank You to Lion Henry Johnson for buying and cooking all the food, bringing his master grill, refrigerated trailer, dumpsters and equipment. Helping Henry cook all day was Lion Dave Stewart. Serving the food during the event was Lions Debby Stewart, Sherry Alpers, Dan Christian, Jeanette Christian, and Pam Sage. Also assisting with the event were Lions Todd Brownell, Candy Fish, Corrine Hayes and Steve Wallenburg. Handling ticket sales were Lions Brian Raffaelli and Jill Collins. The Lions table was staffed by Lion Rich Faringer.

Citizen of the Year 2023

Allen Cornelison

Nominated by many Forest
Ranch residents for going 'Above and Beyond' to help others in the community as well as his generous donations to Forest Ranch.

Dear Friends & Neighbors,

Congratulations to Allen Cornilson! Well deserved!

He not only helped many folks during the Snowmaggaden, he also donated all the ice cream and fixings for the Ice Cream Social. The leftover ice cream was sold at the Co. 24 BBQ.

There are so many folks who make this a great community!

Hats off to Jill Collins (often seen at the Post Office, selling and promoting events) and Dona LaFranchi, who is the main organizer of the Co. 24 BBQ. The Lions are exemplary at recognizing others.
Please note the Appreciation Awards given to Justin Strong, Mishka Nobel, Caitlin Dalby, Jodie Campbell and Chris Edwards. (see page 7).

Please note, the only event this month is a fundraiser for the FRCA on September 30th (see page 12).

Membership is still low. Please grab an application at the Post Office if you haven't already done so. FRCA is a critical link in keeping all the other organizations afloat. We need your support...only $15.00 per year!

Gardening Tips:

PREPARING FOR SEED SAVING

With the craziness of the economy these days, it's important to have a garden that can free up some $$ for incidentals. In order to have seeds for next year, there are a few principles that must be followed. If you want to save seed from your garden, understanding basic concepts when you are planning your garden will make seed saving much easier.

"Hybrids", which are created by crossing plants of two different varieties, generally do not produce offspring with the same traits as the parent plant. Seeds saved from "OPEN POLLINATED" varieties, on the other hand, will produce plants identical to the parent. Heirloom seeds, which are open-pollinated varieties with a history of being handed down from generation to generation.

We only want to save the "open pollinated", heirloom, seeds. If you still have the empty seed packets, they will say "open pollinated" or Heirloom" on the packet. If the packet doesn't say either of these 2 phrases, we don't want to save those seeds of the fruit.

KNOW HOW YOUR PLANTS POLLINATE

Understanding how garden plants are pollinated will help you prevent cross-pollination. Some plants will self-pollinate before the flowers are even open, making them less susceptible to cross-pollination. Examples of "selfers" are tomatoes, peas, and beans, On occasion, insects can cross-pollinate selfers. Plants that are insect-pollinated (squash or cucumbers) or wind pollinated (corn and spinach) are more likely to cross-pollinate.

Cross-pollination is the transfer of pollen between plants. To save pure seed, you want to prevent cross-pollination between two different varieties in the same species. Planting just one variety in a species will help ensure you save pure seed. If you know your plants' scientific name, you will know which ones may cross-pollinate.

For example, the squash commonly grown in gardens could fall into one of three species: Cucurbita maxima, Cucurbita moschata, and Cucurbita pepo. These species won't typically cross-pollinate. So you could grow two different squash species, eg. Zucchini,(Pepo), and a Butternut, (Moschata), and they won't cross. On the other hand, Brassica oleracea includes broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, collards, kale, and kohlrabi, all plants you might think wouldn't cross-pollinate, but actually do. Read up on the cross-pollination habits of the plants you are saving seeds from to ensure you won't run into issues.

Next month, Preparing your seed for storage.

As always,

Happy Gardening: Scott and Lynelle Jackson

White Cane Days in Forest Ranch October 5th & 6th

Each year Lions hold White Cane Event to bring awareness to sight preservation. Since 1925 Lions have been "knights of the blind in the crusade against darkness". We will be holding Bake Sales to raise money for providing eyeglasses and eye exams for those who can't afford it or have the means to pay for it. Other ways we help with sight programs is with the recycling of used eyeglasses where they are distributed throughout the world in helping other with the gift of sight. Last month our club collected 1,152 pairs of used eyeglasses to be sent to the Lions warehouse in Visalia where they will be sorted by their prescription strength and catalog for future distribution.

Brian Raffaelli awarded Lion of the Year 2023

Lion Brian Raffaelli was given the distinction of Lion of the Year by Lion President Jill Collins. Brian is currently serving as Club Secretary and has done an excellent job of ensuring that Agendas and Minutes are prepared for each meeting. He is also responsible for reporting all our Club Activities and Service Projects to Lions Clubs International. He has been instrumental in posting items for Lions onto Facebook and other Social Media methods. He maintains the Lions Club email account as well and has proven to be a very valuable member of our Lions Club since he transferred in June of 2022 from his former Antelope Lions Club in Sacramento.

Certificates of Appreciation were awarded to 6 Citizens for their outstanding dedication and service to our community and the residents of Forest Ranch. Each of these residents were nominated via email for The Citizen of the Year for all that they have done for others during this past year. The winner this year, with over half of the nominations was Allen Cornelison.

All were recognized for their contributions at this year's Volunteer Fire Co# 24 BBQ. Pictured above from left to right are Justin Strong, Allen Cornelison, Jodie Campbell and Mishka Nobel. Also recognized were Caitlin Dalby (pictured on the right) and Chris Edwards (not pictured). These individuals, through their efforts and hard work in service to others are what make this community a great place to live.

~~At the Forest Ranch Lion's presentation people were encouraged to donate to the victims of the Muai Fire. $113 was raised and topped off to $200 by the FR Lions which will be sent to the International Lions organization.

Forest Ranch Fire Wise Needs Your Help

by Caitlin Dalby

The Forest Ranch Fire Safe Council and FireWise Communities wants to reward YOU for doing your part in making our community more wildfire resilient. This last year, have you burned piles, cleared fuels within 100 feet of your home, trimmed trees, and other activities that improve defensible space and firefighter egress? All these activities make our community qualify as a FireWise community. Remember, our Firewise Community status gets homeowners a discount on insurance!

The Forest Ranch Fire Safe Council is offering a chance to be entered into a prize drawing to win a special prize with a value of at least $200, more details to be announced in the coming weeks. For every work-hour you submit, you will have one "chance" entered into the drawing. The drawing will take place at the November 8, 2023 Forest Ranch Fire Safe Council Meeting.

Entering for the drawing is easy! After completing these activities, simply fill out and submit the form found at bit.ly/FRFireWiseReporting for any work completed between November 1, 2022 through October 31, 2023. Alternatively, you can print it from the Forest Ranch Fire Safe Council website at www.forestranchcommunity.com/fire-safe or grab a form at the post office. There is a drop box for printed forms on the side of the post office or you can bring your forms to the next Fire Safe Council meeting. Forms already submitted are in the drawing.

Thank you for doing your part in keeping our Firewise Community accreditation current and making Forest Ranch a safer and more beautiful place to live!

For updates, please email us to subscribe to our community email list at frfiresafecouncil@gmail.com

1 PREP

Determine the fire safe needs of your property. Reach out for a defensible space inspection, if needed. Get the tools you need, let us know if there is something you would like to borrow!

2 WORK

Fuels reduction include pile burning, clearing fuels within 100' of structures, tree trimming, hazard tree removal and more to improve defensible space & firefighter egress.

3 REPORT

By October 31, 2023, submit your work hours, whether YOU did the work or you hired help online at bit.ly/FRFireWiseReporting OR fill out and submit a paper form found at the Post Office.
